about the health of our bodies, and laugh at our jokes, and we really think, like the fly of the whoel, that we have something to do with the turning of the earth. Some day we die and are buried. The sum does not stop for funerals; everything goes on as usual; we are not missed on the streets; men laugh at jokes; one or two hearts feel the wounds of affliction; one or two hearts feel the wounds of affliction; one or two forms. But the crowd moves in the daily circle, and in three days the great wave of time sweeps over our steps and washes but the last vestige of our lives,

A Highlander's Honor.

Two centuries ago it was thought an inult in the Highlands of Scotland to ask a note from a debtor. It was considered the same as saying "I doubt your honor." If parties had all business matters to transact together, they stepped out into the open air, nesa. A mark was then carved in some creased patronege. We buy and sell of the compact. Such a thing as a breach of contract, we are told, was then rarely met with, so highly did the people regard their honor, and so truly did they fear him beneath whose eye they performed such as his opinion that Bingham had been guilty of "murdering an innocent woman," Since that opinion was expressed, many things have transpired which have a tendency to TRUMP, HURFORD, WISE & CO. prove that Butler was correct. The evidence which was produced before that Military Court, presided over by Gen. Hunter, did not prove Mrs. Surratt a criminal. But the Court was not organized for impartial work, and Mrs. Surratt, who never heaad of a plot Its clear, wimplin' burnies, its bonnie green | which had for its object the assassination of President Lincoln, was condemned on suspicion. In a recent letter, a correspondent of a New York daily tells how he was repulsed by that cruel and blood-thirsty scoundrel, the Secretary of War, who stood guard over the White House and its occupant .-How many interceded for the life of this woman, we shall never know, but the nation does know that this same Stanton indecently refused the requests of Mrs. Douglas and Miss Surratt for admission to the President. ed, is generally admitted to have been the cause of the death of one distinguished Republican-but Stanton seems to have rejoic-

The trial of Surratt, the son, by a jury of his peers, for the same crime for which his the cross-walks, or the dirorce court, or the mother was executed, is familiar to the publie.
